DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-51 are pending. The Amendment filed 1/23/04, amended claims 1-12, 14-16, 18, 20-22, 28, and 33-35 and added claims 36-51.

Examiner's Amendment

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with BJ Sadoff on 6/3/04.

The application has been amended as follows:

2) In claim 15, delete the term "certain" in line 7.

Reasons for Allowance

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims 1-51 are allowable over the prior art, as the prior art neither teaches nor renders obvious a cosmetic composition comprising in a physiologically acceptable medium, an ethylene block copolymer such as that recited in instant independent claims 1 and 12.

The closest prior art is US 5,264,527 and US 5,711,940. While both these patents teach at least one block ethylene copolymers of elastic nature comprising a rigid block and a flexible block, they do not teach copolymers, wherein the Tg of the rigid block is greater than or equal to 20 C or the Tg of the flexible block having a Tg of less than 20 C. Thus, the 35 USC 102 and 103 rejections in the previous Office Action are overcome.

Art Unit: 1617

Applicant's amendment to the claims, the above Examiner's amendment, and the argument toward the phrase "characterized in that", is persuasive to overcome the 35 USC 112 rejections in the previous Office Action.

Regarding the provisional double patenting rejection in the previous Office Action, MPEP 804 states that if the "provisional" double patenting rejections in both applications are the only rejections remaining in those applications, the examiner should then withdraw that rejection in one of the applications (e.g., the application with the earlier filing date) and permit the application to issue as a patent. The examiner should maintain the double patenting rejection in the other application as a "provisional" double patenting rejection which will be converted into a double patenting rejection when the one application issues as a patent. Thus, the double patenting rejection is hereby withdrawn and the instant Examiner has notified the Examiner of 10/304,793, of the double patenting issue between the two applications.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
